This project involved the renovation of the exterior of this commercial building and established plumbing business located in the heart of Waterdown.

The original house had been modified extensively for commercial purposes and had lost all of its charm. The owner's desire to revitalize and draw attention to the building without extensive structural modifications and cost was satisfied in this exterior facelift.

The modifications include; adding an exterior insulated stucco system for energy efficiency and incorporating traditionally detailed roof lines, windows and trim details which contribute to the village feel of downtown Waterdown.

The new entrance and landscaping also enhance the streetscape and attracts customers to the new "upscale" showroom inside. The warm gold, stucco colour with crisp white trim draws attention now to a once indistinct building.
